Circuit court convened Monday at Campton, with Judge Redwine in the chair and Attorney Howard on hand as prosecutor. The following is the docket: Commonwealth cases continued, 111; appearance, 65; felonies, 9. The equity cases are 52 continued and 25 appearance, and the common law 29 continued and 23 appearance.

Mrs. Gose, widow of the late Andy Gose, while temporarily deranged, Tuesday night slipped away from her home on the head of Grassy, in Morgan county. Her absence was discovered soon after, and investigation showed that she had saddled her horse and gone off horseback. It being very dark, her friends followed with lanterns and overtook her near Uncle Harry Swango's, where she leaped from her horse and made her way to Dr. Taulbee's foot. There she was cared for until morning, and her friends came here and took her home in a buggy.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Dr. J. B. Buzard, of West Monrovia, (Clarion county, Pa.), says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. A comely form of rugged grace,
Unstodded and uncouth in style,
A clear gray eye, an honest face,
A brown, tanned cheek and bashful smile,
A battered hat on firm-set head,
Rough garments bearing scars of wear,
Strong shoes o'erweighting a firm tread—
This is the yeoman's sturdy heir.

He roams through forest and through field,
With frisking fido near his side,
The nimble squirrels have to yield,
Their nests the shy birds vainly hide;
He knows just where the big fish keep,
And where the rarest wood-blooms spring,
Where winter-snows are drifted deep
And icy ponds are glistening.

In summer time, at eve and morn,
To bring the cows his 'rasmus task;
He loves to hear the dinner-horn,
To bathe, and in the sun to bask;
His youthful heart is filled with pride
When first he drives his father's team,
And when he learns to mount and ride,
Life seems to him a sunlit dream.

Thus lives he till he finds at length
The farm has labor for its boys,
And, as he grows in age and strength,
More trials mingle with his joys;
Thus learns he in his plastic youth
The stern rewards of the soil—
The sure rewards of patience, truth,
The fitting happiness of toil.

Jerry Collins, son of John Collins, aged 14 years, was instantly killed last Sunday morning at his father's on Wolfe Creek, tributary of Quicksand, by a log rolling over him.

Reuben Hale, of Magoffin county, who attended school here last winter, died at Danyille, Indiana, recently, where he was attending school. He was a young man of excellent habits and had great promise of usefulness.

Mrs. Nancy Davidson, mother-in-law of A. J. Stidham of this county, recently passed her 86th birthday. On that day she spun cotton thread enough to make a yard of cotton cloth. Since New Year she has carded and spun enough thread to make seven yards of cloth.

Jerry Stidham has twelve children who eat at the same table and sleep under the same roof. He ought to be a happy man and we have no doubt but he is.

James Combs of Owsley county butchered a hog last week that weighed 558 lbs net. If Owsley could furnish a few thousand like that for the market now, money would be plenty in that county.

SPEECH OF JOHN G. WINN

Before the Controversial
Club,

Taking the Affirmative of the Question,

"Resolved, That a Tax of Two Per Cent. be Levied on All Incomes Exceeding $4,000."

When my opponent and I agreed to toss up for sides on this question, luck was with me and I chose the affirmative, but the joy of winning soon gave place to grave doubts as to whether it was really success or not, and the conviction began to grow that my choice was a bad one, but mature reflection assured me that I was on the right side, and now I can conscientiously say to you that the affirmative is the side upon which I should give my vote if we had the right to pass a law for our country upon this matter, however poorly I may be able to sustain that side in my argument this evening.

If the necessity of additional revenue at this time were a condition precedent to the enactment of a law laying a tax upon incomes in excess of $4,000 per year, that condition undoubtedly does exist; for we are confronted with the prospect of a large deficit in the income of the Government for the current fiscal year. Mr. Carlisle, whose magnificent ability as the head of our Treasury Department even his enemies concede, has already estimated that the excess of expenditures over revenues for the year will be about thirty millions; add to this the shrinkage in tariff collections which the Wilson Bill will cause by the lowering of duties on many articles of importation and the free admission of sugar, and we see such a deficit as might threaten the credit of our country in the financial centers of the world unless our Congress rise to the necessity of the occasion and meet the emergency with adequate wisdom and patriotism.

But if our tariff laws and other laws under which the revenues of our Government are collected were working with perfect smoothness and equity; if they were yielding just exactly as much money as the necessities of the Government require, without favoritism on the one hand and without oppression on the other, I make bold to say that even such apparently perfect laws as those should be modified by the passage of the bill which we now have under consideration. The reasons for such a law lie deeper than even the temporary necessity for more revenue.

The primary theory of all government is that it shall be administered for the good of the governed; and we emphasize and enforce the general theory by declaring and boasting that our noble government is by the people, of the people and for the people. The general theory of taxation is that it must be in proportion to each man's interest in the good administration of the laws and the consequent protection of life, liberty and property. Grant then that every man's life and liberty are just as dear to him as any other man's can be to him, powerful or weak, rich or poor, wise or ignorant. Do not our laws give to every man the same protection in these respects? Undoubtedly they do, and any failure in the practical guaranteeing of these blessings equally to every one is a failure caused by the weakness or wickedness of those whose duty it is to enforce the laws.

But can anyone say that every citizen has the same pecuniary interest in the affairs of government and the administration of law? Manifestly, no. Every man's monetary interest in the government is measured directly by the estate which he owns. But 91 per cent. of our people own only 27 per cent. of our property, leaving the ownership of 73 per cent.,—three-fourths of the property,—with only 9 per cent.—one-eleventh of the people. Should not the owners of the property pay their just proportion of the expenses of the government which protects them in their ownership?

Do they do so under existing laws? Ask it of the toiling millions, of the horny-handed 91 per cent. of our people, the laboring classes, who pay 91 per cent. of the revenues into the Federal Treasury. The revenues of the National Government are raised under our tariff and internal revenue laws; these taxes, of necessity, are on consumption alone, and are wrung from the rich and poor alike upon almost every article of the necessities of life. Their concealment within the folds of indirect taxation makes them none the less burdensome to those who earn their bread by the labor of their hands, and the fact that they are heaviest upon the most generally used articles of food and clothing and lightest upon those things that only the affluent can afford, makes them the more grievous still.

Let us then equalize these burdens by taxing the wealthy in proportion to the interest they have in good government, and as there is no more accurate standard for estimating a man's wealth than the income it yields him, let us require of him a percentage of all that income above the amount of $4,000.

Economy in the affairs of our nation is a much to be desired feature, affecting alike the welfare of every citizen; exact from the rich a just proportion of our revenue and we will enlist them upon the side of economy. Among this favored class, it is needless to say, there are thousands of the most intelligent men of the land, men who have made financial and economic questions a lifelong study, and to them could we look with confidence for wise suggestions along the lines of our nation's business affairs.

One of the strongest arguments in favor of this tax is the ease with which it could be borne by those who would have it to pay. It would be due from no man upon whom it would be a hardship; the fact that he owed the tax would be proof, final and convincing, that he had the funds in abundance with which to pay it.

My thoughtful and logical friends will no doubt urge that a tax of this kind will be a war tax, that it will savor of monarchy, will be inequitable, sending the spies of revenue prying into the private affairs of the citizens, and that it will multiply perjurers and concealers of property all over our land.

Should we deem a war tax as unjust when we are still paying hundreds of thousands, millions, year after year, on account of that war? It did work successfully then, it is true, yielding as much as $78,000,000 in a single year to the Government, in an era when there were not nearly so many rich men as now, and none who possessed a tithe of the wealth of some of our magnates of to-day. Our internal revenue system, working admirably and successfully, was evolved to meet the necessities of the war; shall we therefore discard it? Nay, but rather in lifting the burdens of that costly war let us employ in this time of peace those means which then endured the test of successful working.

Must we decline to adopt a wise law because some country whose government is not Republican now carries it upon its statute book? Shall we forswear tariffs because Germany is highly protective, or declare that free trade is forever unwise because England practices it? To say nothing of the unwisdom of being influenced by prejudice in general, we should be without anything to tax if we allowed it to have full sway in the matter. Name a country, if you can, that does not tax land and personal property.

The assertion that it will necessitate prying into the affairs of the citizens, I deem of little weight. Every man subject to our ordinary taxes must give an account of what he owns to an officer, and this list then becomes a matter of public record. Is it any more objectionable to make such a showing to an officer of the United States than to one of the State? Or is it more humiliating to state on oath what one's income is than what one owns? On the contrary, I think any one of us here would feel his bosom swell with pride when confronted with the duty of going before the Federal Assessor and swearing that his income was more than $4,000 a year.

And I understand that it is the purpose of the advocates of this bill before Congress to meet any objection of that kind by so arranging the machinery for collecting the tax as that it will be the duty of those liable to it to come forward and make their statements. Others will not be annoyed.

From the standpoint of its effect upon Democratic success in the future, I do not see how there can be a valid objection to this bill. The tax will be paid by only about 85,000 people out of our vast population of more than 60,000,000.

The laws of our country have enabled them to accumulate their vast fortunes; let them now pay their just dues towards perpetuating the rich blessings vouchsafed to us by our Revolutionary fathers, who builded even wiser than they knew.

ALLEN MCCORMICK,
JESSE TATE,
A. S. BRIDGES,
JOHN E. GROVES.

We have no defense to make of the parties who were charged with fraud and bribery in the anonymous circular that was distributed here Monday, nor have we any defense to make of the parties who were the cause of the issuance of said circular.

Hon. Thomas H. Hays, of Louisville, being in favor of Emasculation for the crime of rape, has introduced into the State Senate a bill to that effect. We believe such a law would be a greater deterrent than even death, as the victim would have to spend the rest of his days despised by men and scorned by women.

If James E. Stone, the popular Chief Clerk of the Kentucky House of Representatives, consents to make the race for Secretary of State, he will have a large following, for Jim Stone is solid with all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance.

The contested election case at Frankfort was settled last Friday night. The count of votes in the "Craw" precinct elected Judge Ira Julian as Mayor, and the entire Democratic ticket.

Judge Barr has made a decision in the United States Court at Louisville which will result in the sale of the Kentucky Union railroad within thirty days.

The Warner amendment to the Wilson bill, placing raw and refined sugar on the free list, was passed by the National House of Representatives Tuesday.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the effort to be made next Monday to refer the Tariff Bill back to the Ways and Means Committee, instead of putting it upon its passage, will prove abortive. Much precious time has already been lost, and much more is to be frittered away by the Senate. The country does not so much care what changes are to be made in the tariff, but the business demand is that whatever are to be made, be made quickly. Uncertainty killed the fall and winter trade, is killing the spring trade and clouding the outlook for another year. If 'twere good or bad when 'twere done, 'twere best done quickly. It is pre-eminently a case of "shoot or give up the gun."—Louisville Times.

On Monday last President Cleveland sent to the Senate the nomination of Wheeler H. Peckham, of New York, to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, in place of Hornblower, rejected.

The friends of Hon. H. H. Boring, of Hopkins county, are urging that gentleman to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Boring made quite a good race for Superintendent of Public Instruction in 1887.

In the Kentucky House of Representatives Monday, the Committee on Revenue and taxation reported adversely the bill reducing the State tax rate to forty cents. The bill was also refused a second reading by the House. This virtually kills the bill and there will be no reduction of the tax rate. A similar measure was defeated in the Senate by a vote of 15 to 15.

Judge Buckwalter, of Cincinnati, made some remarks last week as to the value of a man's character that were pertinent. He was giving his decision in the Determan divorce suit. In the course of the decision he said in reference to the visits of one Bailey to Mrs. Determan when her husband was not at home, when he drank beer with her, etc.: That the character of no man is good enough to stand visiting another man's wife when her husband was away from home, drink beer with her, etc.

Hon. W. T. Cox, City Attorney of Bowling Green, died at Ocala, Florida, Monday last. Mr. Cox has been in bad health for some time, and about three months ago went to Florida with hopes of recuperating. Mr. Cox, though a very young man, was a leading member of the Kentucky House of Representatives for several terms, and a few years ago came near being Speaker of that body, being defeated by Hon. Harvey Myers by a very small majority. Billy Cox was a man of fine ability and was one of the most lovable men we ever knew. His legion of friends in Kentucky will be pained to hear of his brilliant career being cut short by his untimely death.

A Committee composed of Hon. Fayette Hewitt, Major L. C. Norman, Gen. D. W. Lindsay, Gen. W. J. Hendrick, Capt. W. F. Dandridge, Col. J. Stoddard Johnston, Messrs. Stephen Black, M. P. Gray, George L. Payne and George B. Harper left Frankfort last Saturday for Washington City to appear before the Rivers and Harbors Committee, with a view of demonstrating the importance of further improving the Kentucky river by an appropriation sufficient to complete the river navigation to the coal and timber fields of Eastern Kentucky. We sincerely hope these gentlemen will be successful in their laudable undertaking.

The Separate Coach Law.
The Hon. Mr. Morgan has introduced a bill in the Lower House of the General Assembly to repeal the Separate Coach Law. There is no danger of this law being repealed, because the people, the white people of Kentucky, with one accord favor the law as it now stands, and in this connection we want to say that we do not see why the colored people oppose this law. It requires that they be given the same accommodations as the whites and prohibits the whites from riding in coaches reserved for them, as well as prohibiting them from riding in the white people's coaches. This is right, for what true white man (be he Democrat or Republican) wants to see his wife or daughter sitting in a railroad car beside a dirty negro man? Would it not be enough to arouse his Kentucky manhood to such a pitch as to cause him, perhaps, to commit a desperate deed.
Later—The bill to repeal the Separate Coach Law has been defeated in the Lower House of the General Assembly.

The Kentucky House of Representatives has passed the bill abolishing the State Board of Equalization.

A BEAUTIFUL DAWNING.

Light Sprung from the Darkness.

A Grand Awakening Which Shall Last Forever.

A Brighter Outlook Than the World Has Ever Before Known.

Changes are constantly taking place which tend to make the world happier and to cause a feeling of joy and contentment to pervade our lives. One of the greatest blessings which has fallen to mankind and which is indeed the dawning of a new era of life, has just taken place in the well-known family of Mrs. Albert Blanchard, residing at 358 Webster Ave., Chicago, Ill. She writes the following interesting letter:

"My health has been very poor for several years. I would have sinking spells and was so weak that I could not hold my hand up to my head. I would have to lie down on the sofa and was so very nervous that I could not sleep nights.
"My stomach troubled me all the time and my food distressed me so that I was afraid to eat. I had chills most of the time and sometimes chills and fever with trembling and shaking. I was also troubled with catarrh.
"I was so dizzy at times that I nearly fell; I would grab at the chair, and dark spots appeared before my eyes. I could not begin to tell how I suffered. I was so sick I did not enjoy life and was told that I would not live long.

MRS. ALBERT BLANCHARD.

"I took many remedies and employed several physicians but received no permanent benefit. I was induced to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and after using six bottles I found it had done wonders for me. I now feel real strong and well and can walk a couple of miles.
"My stomach does not trouble me and I am not chilly. My catarrh has entirely disappeared. I am so well that I am assisting my husband in the office and help mother when I go home. I hope any one that is not well will try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.
"My little daughter, Helena, has also been using this remedy with great benefit. She was very delicate and nervous. After taking this wonderful medicine for a short time she gained three pounds and is not near so nervous as she was. I do not feel afraid to recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for I know what it has done for me and my little girl and I would advise any one who is suffering to take it."

MISS HELENA BLANCHARD.

"What a beautiful awakening, indeed, is this great discovery from the darkness of disease and the failures to conquer it. What a blessing to all humanity. How grateful must Mrs. Blanchard feel for the cure of herself and child. Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will do for you all that it has done for her. If you are suffering from any form of nervous or blood disease, indigestion, weak stomach, kidney or liver complaints, take this wonderful medicine and it will cure you. Dr. Greene, the noted specialist in the cure of all chronic and nervous diseases, can be consulted at his office, 35 West 14th street, New York, free, personally or by letter."

State Capital Notes.

The Kentucky Press Association will meet here June 6, 7 and 8.

Dr. E. C. Bright, of Mt. Sterling, was a visitor to the Capital city last Monday.

Bills for reduction of State taxes have been killed in both the Senate and House.

A bill to repeal the Separate Coach law was defeated in the House Tuesday by a vote of 22 to 61.

The Democratic primary for county offices in this (Franklin) county will be held March 6th.

Miss Jessie Hazelrigg, of Mt. Sterling, is visiting the family of Judge J. H. Hazelrigg, on the South Side.

The plant of the Frankfort Furniture Factory Co. burned last Saturday morning. Loss about $8,000, insured for $3,000.

Joel S. Head resigned as Steward of the Feeble-minded Institute and is succeeded by Charles J. Cecil, of Hardin county.

County Judge Ren. G. Williams has announced himself a candidate for re-election, subject to the Democratic primary. Judge Williams has made a first-class record and there is no doubt about his re-election.

These prognosticators of who will be candidates for State offices are as unreliable as those who forecast the weather. They are simply trying to get up a stir a year in advance. The slates now made will be smashed long before the flowers will bloom in the spring.

John C. C. Mayo, of Paintsville, the Big Sandy Boomer, was here several days the past week. He is engineering some big law deals in Eastern Kentucky and rapidly accumulating a fortune.

Mr. Mayo thinks that Jo. M. Kendall will be the only candidate for Congress from the Big Sandy Valley.

Aaron Baker, a colored man of Trigg county, came here at the opening of the Legislature, and was employed as porter in the House. He died of pneumonia a few days since, and by resolution of the House Judge Sims, the member from Trigg, and Capt. Todd Hall, Janitor of the House, accompanied the remains to Baker's former home.

Baker served in the Confederate army and was a staunch Democrat.

The contest for the Mayoralty of Frankfort was settled in the Circuit Court. The Judge ordered a count to be made of the votes cast in the Gas House precinct and the result was the finding of a majority of votes in favor of the Democrats. This was a great surprise to the Republicans and also to some Democrats. Of course the Republicans are still kicking, but it will do them no good. The Capital City will have a Democratic Mayor, Council, School Board, Marshal and Policemen.

A delegation of citizens of this city are in Washington this week urging the River and Harbor Committee to report a bill making an appropriation to the improvement of Kentucky river. The delegates are: Major L. C. Norman, Gen. Fayette Hewitt, Hon. W. J. Hendrick, Hon. J. Proctor Knott, Gen. D. W. Lindsay, Capt. W. F. Dandridge, George B. Harper, M. P. Gray, George L. Payne and L. F. Johnson.

Silver in Johnson County.

On Paint Creek, just eight miles from here, on the farm of J. B. Colvin, a rich silver mine has been discovered. The ore is very rich and in almost inexhaustible quantities. Mr. Colvin proposes to take steps at once to organize a company to put this mine into operation. There is quite an excitement over this discovery.—Paintsville Times.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

The old style pills! Who does not know what agony they caused—what woe! You walked the floor, you groaned, you sighed, and felt such awful pain inside.

And the next day you felt so weak, you didn't want to move or speak. Now Pierce's "Pellets" are so mild they are not dreaded by a child.

They do their work in painless way and leave no weakness for next day; thus proving what is oft confessed, That gentle means are always best.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are unequalled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, cheapest, easiest to take. One tiny, Sugar-coated Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. 25 cts. a vial, by druggists.

With Hood's Sarsaparilla—For Tetter and Blood Impurities

Stronger and Better in Every Way.

"I have been more than pleased with Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have suffered with tetter breaking out on my face and all over my body all my life. I never could find anything to do it good until I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have now used about eight bottles, and Oh, it has done me so much good that I have the utmost faith in it and recommend it to everyone. Besides purifying my blood, it has made me so much stronger and better I do not feel like the same person at all." ANNIE ARNER, Augusta, Ky.

Bank Officers Indicted.

Just before adjourning Wednesday afternoon, the grand jury of this county returned indictments against Wm. Mitchell, late President; Chas. M. Grubbs, late Cashier, and Mrs. Laura M. Bent, a clerk in the New Farmers Bank, of this city. It will be remembered that this bank made an assignment to R. B. Young on July 27th last; that the County Judge refused to accept Mr. Young's bond as assignee, and was about to appoint Trustees for the bank when he was enjoined from so doing by the Circuit Judge of this district, who appointed Mr. J. Green Trimble, Sr., of this city, temporary receiver, until the next regular term of the Circuit Court. When Circuit Court convened Mr. Trimble filed his report, which showed that the bank had in cash on hand when closed about $179. There was due depositors about $350,000, and the bank held paper good, bad and indifferent, to the amount of something over $600,000. Of this amount the Mitchells owed or were bound for over $200,000, (but it is proper to state here that Messrs. Wm. and R. A. Mitchell claim that the bank is amply secured on what they owe it).

After this the Columbia Finance and Trust Company, of Louisville, was appointed permanent Trustee of the bank, and this appointment created a great deal of bad feeling and dissatisfaction in this county.

The indictment against Messrs. Mitchell and Grubbs and Mrs. Bent charges them with "receiving deposits when they knew the bank was insolvent." We very much regret that this matter has assumed so serious an aspect, and we also regret that the grand jury considered it their duty to return these indictments from the evidence before them. Mr. Mitchell is a very old man, has been a leading member of the Christian church of this city for many, many years, and the prospects are that his case will be appealed to a higher court ere he is tried under this indictment. Mr. Grubbs, who was the Cashier of the bank at the time of its failure, had only been living in this city for a few years, but by his gentlemanly manners and strict attention to business, made a host of friends in this county, who will be glad to extend him a helping hand in this his hour of trouble. Mrs. Bent is the oldest daughter of Mr. Wm. Mitchell, and has been a clerk in the bank for some eight or ten years. She is a Christian woman, and all of her friends will be glad to hear of her trouble.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

BREVITY.

A scurvy "joke" was attempted by some unknown parties in Danville last week, when a proposition for the Corbett-Mitchell fight was sent to the Cincinnati Enquirer, offering $20,000 for the battle to occur in Danville, and signing the names of two prominent ministers and a physician to the offer. The article was sent anonymously, and not by the paper's correspondent. It was a contemptible trick, and the perpetrators of it should be severely punished if found out.—Danville Advocate.

The most valuable paper that comes to this office is the New York World. Fearless and Independent working at all times for the best interests of the people, and never for the selfish ends of and ring or individual, supporting the right and condemning the wrong where ever found, it becomes a great power for good throughout the land. Its policy is defined by its well-known motto: "Equal Rights to All, Special Favors to None." The reputation of The Weekly World as an incomparable newspaper is fully established. It reaches for the very best and fullest news of the entire country, and gets it. The celebrated "Tariff Mule" articles are again running in their weekly and are creating widespread attention. Its miscellaneous pages are replete with articles of valuable and interesting information to every one. It is a large 12-page, 8-column paper for only $1.00 a year. We have succeeded in making special arrangements by which we can furnish the SENTINEL-DEMOCRAT and The Weekly World one year both for only $1.50. Address,

At the Christian church in Sharpsburg, last Tuesday afternoon, Mr. E. P. Clarke, of Winchester, and Miss Claudia V. Berry, and Mr. C. P. Saunders, of Carroll county, and Miss Annie Berry were married, Eld. Charles Thomas, of Lexington, officiating. The brides are both charming young ladies, and daughters of Mrs. Margaret Berry. Just a short time before the double wedding at the church, their brother, Mr. Harry Berry, was married to Miss Lida Dimmitt, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Nick Dimmitt. Miss Dimmitt is a handsome young lady and has many friends in this city, where she resided for several years. The wedding over the party drove to this city and took the train for Lexington and Louisville. The SENTINEL-DEMOCRAT wishes much happiness for all of these young people in this the most important step in life. The following from this city attended the wedding: Mrs. Emma Hanly and three daughters; Misses Iva and Edna Land, Kate Parker, Eva Bruton, Bessie Adamson, Eula, Ora and Fisher Green, Pearl, Annie and Lula Lane, Mrs. Leo Berry and Horace Lane.

THE K. U. TO BE SOLD.

The Kentucky Union to Go Under the Hammer Within Thirty Days.

Louisville Ky., Jan. 20.—The Kentucky Union Railway Company will be sold, by decree of the United States Courts, within the next thirty days, and the involved litigation between J. Kennedy Todd & Co., of New York, and those interested in one way and another in the railway corporation will near an end.

In the United States District Court this morning Judge Barr overruled the motion of the Columbia Finance and Trust Company, the trustee of the Kentucky Union's second mortgage bonds, to suspend the decree of sale. This knocked the last peg from under the second mortgage bondholders, who have so stubbornly fought the J. Kennedy Todd people, and unless the latter object, the decree of sale will become operative within the next thirty days.

The complainants, Todd & Co., have all along desired the sale, and they will, no doubt, acquiesce in the order. The Kentucky Union litigation is among the most notable ever brought to the attention of the Federal Courts of this district. The Todd Company is trustee for the bulk of the $3,000,000 of first mortgage bonds issued by the Kentucky Union Railway Company.

We have received the announcement of the Thirtieth Annual State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of Kentucky, to be held at Covington, February 15, 16, 17 and 18. The principal speakers will be Prof. W. G. Morehead, Xenia, O.; Prof. W. H. Marquess, Louisville; F. L. Willis, State Secretary, Alabama; H. P. Anderson and E. L. Hamilton, Secretaries of the International Committee; George T. Howser, General Secretary, Cincinnati, O. A number of well known business men of the State, and officers of the city college and railroad associations will also take part in the program.

Every young man, whether an Association member or not, is invited; also pastors and business men interested in this special work. Excursion rates have been granted over all railroads in Kentucky, and the Covington Association provides entertainment for all accredited delegates. For particulars as to reduced railroad rates, credentials, program, etc., address Henry E. Rosevear, State Secretary Y. M. C. A., 451 West Walnut street, Louisville, Ky.

It will be noticed by those who attend the performance of the generally well-liked comic opera, "The Little Tycoon," at the Opera House on the night of January 20th, that the young lady members of the chorus are of a very different class from those usually found in the choruses of comic opera companies. The majority of them were secured in various musical conservatories in New York and Philadelphia, and in "The Little Tycoon" they make their first appearance on the professional stage. They are youthful, good looking, fresh-voiced, and above all else, are enthusiastic in carrying out that part of the entertainment which is assigned to their care. Indeed, the performance affords them almost as much delight as it does the audience, for they have not as yet become blasé.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

"Turn that wrapping paper the other side out," said the lady in a dry goods store the other morning, as the clerk was putting up her purchase in wrapping paper. "I don't want to be a walking advertisement for your store. I read the papers, as all intelligent people ought to do, and I think that in them is the place to advertise your business. Instead of asking your customers to carry your sign around with each purchase, tell the people through the papers what you have to sell and how you sell it."

Speaker Carroll has already taken an important step by shutting off unauthorized and unnecessary talk in the Legislature. It is evidently his intention to make it a working and not a talking session. There are always a lot of loquacious fellows in every Legislature, who make everybody tired but themselves, and never lose an opportunity to make a speech. The Speaker wants these fellows to work while they are in the House, and do their talking after they go home.—Bowling Green Times.

Show Gossip.

There are few new or novel offerings for the present season in a theatrical way. Most of the old-time favorites will try the patience of enduring audiences for another season.

Among the more notable announcements for an early opening is that of "A Stranger," a farce where Minstrelsy and Farce-Comedy are blended.

Arthur Deming, late of Vreeland's Minstrels, is the bright particular star of the organization and scored a wonderful hit with the members of the Press who were invited to the first full dress rehearsal of this novel and original performance.

The skit overflows with ludicrous situations, tuneful melodies and refined specialties. The introduction of a novel Minstrel "First Part" during the action of the farce is original with Mr. Deming and causes the performance to excel in grandeur any of its predecessors known in the annals of modern day productions.

"A Stranger" will be presented by many of the prominent members of the Minstrel and Farce-Comedy world, to the patrons of the Grand Opera House, Friday, Jan. 26th.

CLASSED TO HIGH.

Difficulties of Pineville, Ky., Under the New Constitution.

Barboursville, Ky., January 20.—Virtually the boom town has a hard row to weed, and some of them in Eastern Kentucky are just beginning to realize this. Many of them under the classification made by the new constitution were striding too rapidly and wanted to be cities too soon. The City of Pineville, while it has only 1,300 inhabitants and is really a city of sixth class must move, along and be governed according to the charter for fourth class cities until such time as the Legislature sees fit to enact a law relegating the ex-boom town to the class in which it belongs. By some mistake Pineville, with its varying luck and population, was placed in the fourth class, along with towns of three thousand population and upwards when the last Legislature passed the law classifying the cities and towns of the State. New officers have been elected, and are managing the affairs of the town according to the provisions of the fourth class charter. A suit was brought against the officers recently, and the lower court decided that as the town was not rightly in the fourth class, these officers had been illegally elected and were not lawfully conducting the affairs of the town. The town Councilmen and others appealed the case, and yesterday, in the court at Frankfort Judge Hazelrigg handed down an opinion reversing the lower court, holding that the Legislature alone had the classifying of cities and towns and that it alone could make Pineville belong to some other class than that to which the Legislature had assigned it.

Tobacco Report.

By Farmers' and Shippers' Tobacco Warehouse Co.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 19, 1894.

Our new additional salesroom has given our farmers and shippers much better facilities and greatly improved our position in rotation of sales, enabling us this week to offer 714 hds. very satisfactory.

Notwithstanding the large offerings this week, prices have been very well sustained, common and low grades of New have not sold quite so well, but good to fine has sold fully up to former quotations. Old is still in active demand with prices fully maintained.

The offerings at this House this week were 714 hds., and our receipts 362 hds.

The 714 hds. at auction sold as follows:

156 hds. Mason Co. at $23 to $5.15; 98 hds. Brown Co. at $19.25 to $4.85; 300 hds. New Leaf, Lugs and Trash at $17.75 to $2.95; 180 hds. Blue Grass at $18.75 to $4.60; 30 hds. Owen Co. $14.75 to $3.20.

Mrs. Mary Brown Day, the State Librarian, has just published a book of statistics which will be very useful to the lawyers, officers and business men of the State. It contains the first annotated constitution published of all cases decided by the Court of Appeals by E. W. Hines, report a list of State and county officers, statistics relative to State institutions, last apportionment of Senatorial, Legislative, Congressional and Judicial districts, time and place of meeting of courts, etc. This book is especially needed just now in consequence of the many changes made in all these matters by the new Constitution. This is the first publication of this kind ever made in the State and is purely a private enterprise. The book is handsomely bound in red and contains about 250 pages.

Two Big Shows in One.

On January 26th our theater goes will receive a genuine treat, in the way of a theatrical entertainment at the Grand Opera House. The attraction being the consolidated forces of Arthur Deming's Minstrels and Sweet & DeCoursey's Comedy Co. The laugh provoking farce-comedy, "A Stranger," will be presented with the celebrated Minstrel, Arthur Deming, in the title role and will be followed by a complete minstrel performance. The sale of seats indicates a very large audience and judging from the many flattering notices from the Press throughout the country, those who attend will not be disappointed.

Little Tycoon.

The following telegram explains itself: "Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 21.—I. F. Tabb, Manager Opera House, Mt. Sterling, Ky.: Book 'Little Tycoon' and orchestra January 29. Agent arrives Monday."

The New York Sun says: It was impossible to get a denial or a confirmation of the report that Anna Gould had been engaged to William S. Harriman. George J. Gould said he could not deny or confirm it. He added: "Mr. Harriman is, however, a good friend of mine and I think a great deal of him."

Yesterday morning Miss Anna Gould came up from Lockwood with Mr. Harriman. They met Mr. and Mrs. Gould at the new Netherland Hotel, and later attended the wedding of Miss Graves and Mr. Faye in Trinity Chapel. The report of the engagement was not an entire surprise to the friends of the two families. A friend of the Gould family said yesterday:

"I know that Miss Anna Gould has been engaged to Mr. Harriman for a month at least. The family have wished it kept as quiet as possible, but now that it is out I don't suppose it need be kept a secret any longer."

Miss Gould is about twenty-five years old. A conservative estimate might place her wealth at about $5,000,000, from which she enjoys the income for life. Mr. Harriman is about ten years Miss Gould's senior. He has a large fortune, which he made in Wall street. He is very charitable. He is a member of many clubs in and near the city, and is universally liked. He is an enthusiastic yachtsman.

Judge Hanks, who has for a long time been a valuable element in State Legislation, pays a high compliment to the present House of Representatives by saying that it is the most conservative, quietest and most orderly body in which he has served. He thinks its progress thus far has been as great as it could have been, and he believes that the slow method of the new Constitution will prove best for the State in the long run. He congratulates the people that the day has passed for railroad-ing a half-dozen bills through both bodies in a single night. He says he has seen as many as fifty passed in one day at the tail end of a session, and most of them bad bills. Now, he says, if a bill goes through, it is sure to have been earnestly and honestly considered.—Frankfort Capital.

CYNTHIANA DEMOCRAT: "Hon. Rolla Hart is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, the best at the disposal of the Speaker. Mr. Hart's name is most frequently met with in newspapers, in connection with the Congressional nomination in this district. Mr. Hart is good fellow, with a knack of making friends readily and standing by them to the last ditch. If Mr. Paynter proposes to be in the fight, now is the time to subscribe."

Will Jennings, who staid in jail here a year or two, pending the trial for the killing of John Bailey in Harlan county, and for which he was finally given a life sentence, which he is now serving, will learn with pleasure, and surprise no doubt that his cousin, Wils Howard, said the night before his taking off that he killed Mr. Bailey.—Interior Journal.

The Wilson Bill will be brought to a vote in the House next Monday, and the indications are that it will be passed by more than the entire Democratic membership can muster, the Populists more than making good the five or six negative votes expected from protectionist wolves in Democratic sheep's clothing.—Louisville Times.

Mr. Villiers is the father of the House of Commons in point of age, he being ninety-one. Mr. Gladstone is the next oldest member. He was a Lord of the Treasury before Mr. Asquith, Mr. Balfour, Mr. Morley or Mr. Chamberlain was born.

Saved Her Life.

Mrs. C. J. Woodruff, of Worth, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"One of my children had Croup. The cough was attended by great difficulty and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hoarse cry, and on going to it found it struggling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that this was a serious condition, I gave it a dose of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The child soon began to breathe freely, and in a short time it was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is now well and healthy. I give Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to all my children, and it has saved their lives many times."

The Trust Company.

The one subject that is agitating the minds of the people of this community is, whether or not the course the Columbia Finance and Trust Company is pursuing in the settlement of the affairs of the New Farmers' Bank is in the interests of the depositors of said bank. From the facts of the case we think not. The depositors are now talking of receiving fifteen or twenty cents on the dollar for their deposits, and the Trust Company gave in the deposits for assessment at 25 cents on the dollar, and we do not know a single man in the county who would give over 25 cents on the dollar for deposits. Now for what the Temporary Receiver of the bank has to say. All or most of our readers are personally acquainted with Mr. J. Green Trimble, Sr. He is known to be a reliable man and is responsible financially and otherwise for what he says, and as Temporary Receiver of the New Farmers' Bank, of course had every opportunity to acquaint and familiarize himself with the assets and liabilities of the institution, and knows better than anyone else what the creditors of the bank ought to receive. Mr. Trimble told the editor of this paper that he had been continued (though he did not want the place) as Trustee of the Bank, that he would have been willing to sign his name to a contract guaranteeing to every depositor DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR for their deposits. Would Mr. Trimble's name to such a contract be good? It is useless for us to answer this question, for it is well known that Mr. Trimble's fortune is estimated to be between two and three hundred thousand dollars. And besides this, Mr. Trimble is a man who never talks for pastime, and always weighs well his words before uttering them, and means exactly what he says. Now, after this statement from so good and reliable a business man as J. Green Trimble, is there a man, woman or child in Montgomery county who believes the appointment of the Trust Company as Trustee of the New Farmers' Bank was a wise one, or that said Trust Company is winding up the affairs of the bank in a way that will be to the best interest of the depositors. We certainly think not. All who think the Columbia Finance and Trust Company is the proper party to wind up the affairs of the New Farmers' Bank will stand on their heads.

Lisle's Constituents.

The Toledo Blade gives a brief sketch of our Congressman, as follows: "Congressman Lisle, who represents one of the mountain districts of Kentucky, is only 31 years old. When he stumped his district last fall he had to do it on horseback, and he wound in and out among the mountains for weeks without seeing a railroad train or a hotel. Three-quarters of his constituents cannot read or write, and Andrew Jackson gets more votes among them at every election than in any other district of the United States."

We don't know from whom the Blade got its information, but from whoever it was, he either don't know anything about Eastern Kentucky and its people, or he willfully misstated the facts. The people in Mr. Lisle's district are just as intelligent and well informed as those of any mountain district in the United States. There are hotels, and good ones, not twenty miles apart all over the district. There are also several railroads in this district, and a man could not ride two days, much less weeks, without seeing a railroad train.

"How About the Weather."

The Weekly Courier-Journal, published at Louisville, Ky., delights in keeping its subscribers guessing. In addition to being the greatest Democratic newspaper published, it has been a pioneer in enterprises that require thought and figuring on the part of its subscribers. The Weekly's estimating contest on the election in 1892, by which $14,400 in gold coin were distributed among forty-five guessers, is a sample of this. The latest guessing offer on this paper is on the weather—that one subject on which we all consider ourselves prophets. The Weekly Courier-Journal proposes to give $1,000 in cash to its subscribers who can name the coldest day in the month of February, 1894, at Louisville Ky., and guess closest to the lowest temperature on this day. The contest closes January 31, 1894. Every new subscriber who sends $1 can make one guess; and every old subscriber who renews, sending $1, can guess. Send for a sample copy of the paper for full particulars. Write at once as the time is short.

The report of the Railroad Commission shows that Clark county has more miles of railroad, in proportion to its area, than any other county in the State except Jefferson.

Go to the Opera House to-night and laugh to your heart's content.

A Frankfort correspondent of the Cincinnati Tribune has the following to say of the present aspects of the coming race for Governor of Kentucky: "Although the race for Governor is nearly a year off, candidates are already hustling. Ex-Attorney General P. W. Hardin has been here since the convening of the Legislature talking with friends. He will be a candidate, and a strong one, too. News has reached here, and if there is any State political news it comes to Frankfort, that a large-sized boom has been started in the interest of Judge Quincy Ward, of Paris. He has long had an ambition to be Governor. Hon. Cassius M. Clay, who was Governor Brown's leading competitor in the last race, was here this week. The manner in which he greeted his old acquaintances and found new ones was indicative of something. When asked if he would be a gubernatorial candidate he only 'smiled.'"

Speedy Justice.

In the Circuit Court last Saturday the case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky against Will Conner, charged with murder, was called, both sides answering ready. The following jury, T. C. Graves, Joe A. Stephens, John McGilway, G. W. Kimbrell, Seth Combs, Jr., W. Redmon, W. P. Drake, William Morton, E. L. Bramlett, H. C. Hurst, Frank Murphy and J. I. Robinson, was selected and the case proceeded with. After hearing the evidence, the instructions of the court and arguments of counsel, the jury retired and in a few hours brought in a verdict, finding the defendant guilty as charged and fixing his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for life.

It will be remembered that two weeks ago last Sunday the defendant stabbed and killed Tom Hunt, and in less than two weeks he was indicted, tried, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. This is the kind of speedy justice we like.

The lease of life for Uncle Tom's Cabin is phenomenal. It is a play that has been hacked, and butchered, and gaudied unmercifully, and yet it survives, because it tells a story which interests and stirs up humanity. It can be truly said of the Davis Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., that every performer in his or her particular line is an artist. The scenic, mechanical, caelestial and electrical effects are truly wonderful. At Grand Opera House Wednesday, Jan. 31.

Call is a veritable Daniel come to judgement. The Florida law prohibits prize fights, but the Jacksonville Judge gravely declares that he found no evidence that the Corbett-Mitchell "entertainment" was to be other than a glove contest, which form of harmless amusement is not inhibited by the statutes. Yet Coke tells us that law is the "perfection of human reason," and Burke, that it is "the pride of human intellect." Let this reason and pride enter a glove contest with Corbett and Mitchell and see "where they are at."—Louisville Times.

CORBETT STILL CHAMPION.

With a Terrific Blow Over the Heart

He Knocks the Englishman Out in the Third Round.

The fight between Jas. J. Corbett and Charlie Mitchell was of short duration, for in the third round the world's champion landed a terrific blow over the Englishman's heart, knocking him completely out, in fact Mitchell had not regained consciousness when time was called, and John Kelly, the referee, awarded the fight to Corbett. This is a surprise to the people, not because Corbett whipped Mitchell, but because of the short time in which it took him to do it, the fight only lasting nine minutes. Jas. J. Corbett is undoubtedly the greatest pugilist the world has ever seen. Mitchell, who fought a draw with John L. Sullivan, not being able to stand before him longer than three rounds.

Round 2—The second round starts off with a wild exchange and clinch; Corbett upper cuts his man as they come together; Mitchell lands hard on the ribs, and as Mitchell comes in Corbett knocks him down twice in succession; Jim floored his man clearly and knocked him down again as he essayed to rise. The gong saved Mitchell.

Round 3—Mitchell came up rather groggy; Corbett rushed at him and swung his right and left heavy on Mitchell's breast; Charley went down; he took the full time to rise and then Corbett rushed at him and won the fight.

"You can say what you like against cigarettes," said the quiet man to the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph man, who had been condemning the use of the little cylinders in unmeasured terms, "but you will never get me to say a word against them."

"Why not, sir?"

"They have been of the greatest benefit to me."

"In what way? Do you use them sparingly?"

"No; I don't use them at all."

"Perhaps you are a manufacturer of cigarettes?"

"Then you must be a doctor, with a good practice among cigarette-smoking youths?"

"That isn't it either."

"Then I should really like to know how cigarettes could possibly have benefited you, sir."

"I'll tell you. A young fellow of twenty was the only life between me and an estate of $200,000. He was very fond of cigarettes, and about a month ago he was buried."

Tariff Battle-Cries.

The outcry against the Wilson tariff bill all emanates from one source, namely, those interested in keeping up inordinate profits on over-protected articles. Employers cry ruin and easily induce their workmen by threats where persuasions fail to join them. It is all senseless and will be void of effect.

The Democratic majority in Congress have their orders from the people of the United States and they have their mandate also from the Republican leaders, who spoke and wrote on the tariff before the McKinley debacle on tariff log-rolling was started under Harrison. Grant and Garfield are respectable names for Republicans yet, and they advocated a lowering of the tariff. Free raw materials, lower prices, larger production for what men eat, wear and use, and the world for a market. These are the battle-cries.

Judge R. H. Thompson, of Louisville, will submit to the proper legislative committees some reasons why a State Reformatory should be established. On account of his long experience as Judge of the City Court his suggestions should carry great weight. No one in Kentucky is better qualified to present the many urgent reasons that demand the proposed reformation in our prison system.—Owenboro Inquirer.

St. Paul's, the next to the oldest Episcopal church in Louisville, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning.

Churches and Societies.

The officers of the Christian church have determined to re-build a handsome church on the same lot on which their building burnt, and will probably begin work as soon as the weather will allow. It is not known whether a new plan of architecture will be followed, or whether a duplicate of the old building will be erected.—Owingsville Outlook.

In a letter to his paper, the Carlisle Mercury, Green R. Keller, Assistant Clerk of the House of Representatives, says:

"The Legislature has cut out enough work to keep it busy for six months, but has been able to pass but three little resolutions up to date. This is a rather bad showing for the men who jumped onto the last Legislature, but I knew it would be the result. Under the new Constitution legislation can be made impossible by two or three fairly posted parliamentarians, and while I will not say it is about as well, the day may come when the people will want relief, and want it bad. The fact of the business is there are people now clamoring for a change that they may not be able to get. I must say that I have never seen men more determined on trying to do something than the present General Assembly, but they find themselves unable to move, and they are as helpless as children."

Farmers in Kent county, Md., have found that ground planted in tomatoes yields from $27 to $50 per acre and one farmer reports a yield of $72 per acre, while the average of reports received indicated a yield of a little less than $40.50 per acre. All these facts came out at a meeting of farmers. It was the sense of the meeting that the landlord should furnish half the fertilizer and half the tomato plants, and that he should receive one-third of the returns.

The Town Council of Litchfield, Ky., has assessed a license on nearly every profession and business in the town. The milliners have to pay a license of $2 per year, merchants carrying a stock of goods of $10,000 or over have to pay a license of $4, and the banks $3. Other trades and professions are taxed in the same proportion.

What is to be done with Queen Lilioukalani is not so important to the people of the United States as what is to become of the industrial classes if the stagnation of business is allowed to continue through a failure to define the tariff policy of the country. There is uncertainty in delay.—Educational Herald.

Mothers

need a powerful nourishment in food when nursing babies or they are apt to suffer from Emaciation.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with hypophosphites of lime and soda, nourishes mothers speedily back to health and makes their babies fat and chubby. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Babies

are never healthy when thin. They ought to be fat. Babies cry for SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is palatable and easy to assimilate.

The case of Lane against Lockridge, Montgomery, has been dismissed with damages by the Superior Court.

The last chance of the consumptive is usually taken when he "goes south." Alas how many never return alive! Dr. Fenger's Golden Relief taken in 5 drop doses on a small lump of sugar once in two hours, CURES CONSUMPTION. It has been stigmatized as a "cure all." That is unjust. It claims to cure but one disease, viz., INFLAMMATION. But that appearing in so many forms makes a long list of names. It certainly looks like a big jump from colds and catarrhs to consumption. But each is inflammation, and inflammation can no more thrive under the application of this remedy than potato bugs can under Paris green. It kills it. If no inflammation then there would be no consumption; arrest it and you arrest the consumption. Mr. S. L. Amphlett, Clearmont, South Dakota, writes: "I am a well man and cannot say enough in praise of Golden Relief. Took it as directed. In two weeks cough had ceased and throat trouble of years standing disappeared. The Golden Relief is all you claim for it. I could tell of other wonderful cures." This is the brief tale of a man who had had the "hectic flush" and was about to take the "last chance." Instead of "going south" he was induced to use Golden Relief. He did not "go south." Today he is a well man. Try it. If not satisfied with results, money refunded. No narcotics, no mineral poisons in it. Safe and certain. Never disappoints. One tablespoonful cures La Grippe. Take a bottle home to-day.

DEATHS.

Mr. George Hockaday died at his residence on Maysville street, in this city, last Sunday evening. Mr. Hockaday had only been living here since last August, but in that short time he made many warm friends, who learned to love him for his true worth. Mr. Hockaday was a Christian gentleman, having served his congregation as deacon and elder for many years at Greensburg, Ky., before moving to this city. His wife and five children survive him. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at his late residence, by Elder H. D. Clark, and his remains afterwards laid to rest in Machpelah cemetery.

In the death of Mrs. Virginia Chenault we mourn the loss of a Christian mother and friend. On Saturday evening, January 20th, God's summons came. And while loving hearts stood by the bed of death, feeling the feeble, fluttering pressure of the hand, hearing the faltering accents struggling in death to give one more assurance of affection, the tired heart ceased to beat and the night-time of earth was to her the dawning of a glorious morning. Left a widow, she was spared to raise a family of sons and daughters, and in the years of her old age she leaned upon them with pride and affection; and while they mourn her absent, they must remember that heaven is our home; there ties are never severed, loved ones never more separated. It is an inspiring hope that when we separate here on earth at the summons of death's angel, and when a few more years have rolled over the heads of those remaining, if "faithful unto death," we shall meet again in heaven our eternal home, there to dwell in the presence of our Heavenly Father and go no more out forever.
